Enclave Audio and Hisense Partner to Provide Ultimate Home Theater Experience Bundle

For a limited time, customers can bundle together any Hisense premium Laser TV model with the THX-Certified CineHome PRO from Enclave Audio

Woodland Hills, CA & Suwanee, GA – June 13, 2022 – Enclave Audio®, manufacturer of immersive wireless audio systems for home entertainment environments and Hisense®, provider of high-performance televisions and appliances, today announce limited-time bundle offerings curated to make any customer's home theater dreams come true. Available today, those looking to take their home entertainment experience to the next level can bundle any Hisense premium Laser TV model with the only THX-Certified wireless surround sound system, the Enclave CineHome PRO, and receive a $200 USD gift card.

From Zero to Home Theater

This bundle has been crafted by Enclave Audio and Hisense to give customers a seamless, epic home theater experience with zero of the traditional hassle. When a Hisense Laser TV model is paired with an Enclave Audio CineHome PRO, there's simply no need to spend hours painstakingly running wiring and cabling. No complicated or bulky audio/video receivers to connect and calibrate, just home theater made easy. Hisense removes the guesswork for pairing the screen by offering perfectly paired ambient light rejecting screens that work for a variety of different setups. Enclave Audio makes it easy to get cinema-level surround sound in minutes. The end result is a perfectly matched home theater experience whereby customers can have a 100+-inch Laser TV display paired with THX-certified wireless surround sound setup faster than the runtime of their favorite movie.

Clear Picture, Captivating Sound, Cut the Wires

Hisense's Laser TV displays use various laser light sources along with ambient light rejecting screens to produce a punchy picture and vivid colors in a variety of lighting environments. The varied laser and screen options gives customers the freedom and flexibility to set up their epic home theater experience wherever and however they desire. Add to that the THX-certified CineHome PRO wireless surround sound system and any space is instantly transformed into a home theater capable of producing the immersive, cinematic experience customers are looking for.

When a Hisense Laser TV and CineHome PRO system are bundled together, excessive wiring is taken completely out of the equation. A single cable connects the Hisense Laser TV model to the Enclave Audio CineHub and from there, all Enclave speakers and subwoofers synchronize wirelessly for a latency free, immersive surround sound experience. Once connected, just download the Enclave App on your Hisense Laser TV and access all your system settings and controls for your CineHome system right on your Laser TV display.

Build Your Bundle

Enclave Audio and Hisense have partnered to offer limited-time special bundle offerings featuring any of Hisense's latest Laser model offerings with the Enclave CineHome PRO. Users can pair any of the Hisense Laser TV offerings below with an Enclave Audio wireless surround sound system and receive a $200 gift card when the items are purchased together, regardless of bundle price.

Hisense Laser TV options to pair with the Enclave Audio CineHome PRO:

- 120L9G Laser TV
